Masters Ask Churches' Aid to Purify Dancing Wanamaker Wanamaker Funeral Service Wife of Marchent Wife

Resolution Adopted at Annual Convention Being Held Here Appeals for Help to Improve the Art Wife of Merchant Is Rather Than to Maintain Ban Observed by Few

The light fantastic toe and those who are qualified as exponents of the art of tripping it as you go were much in evidence yesterday at the Hotel Astor, where the American National Association of Masters of Dancing is holding its thirty-seventh annual convention. Purification of the modern dances, expulsion of the much exploited shimmy and all the wicked wiggles, and the evolution of a substitute for the overworked waltz, two-step and fox-trot are the main problems before the association.

A plea for better dance music and the improvement of the general tone of modern dances was made in the opening speech by Fenton T. Bott, of Dayton, Ohio, president of the association, who also introduced a resolution suggesting that the Methodist and all other churches, as well as the state and municipal authorities, help improve dancing rather than maintain a ban which few church members obey. This resolution was adopted unanimously.

A public appeal was made to composers and publishers of music, the music roll and phonograph record makers to improve the rhythm of modern dancing.

"Dancing will thereby be bettered."

Said President Bott. "We believe that it is best for all concerned, both from a moral and a financial standpoint, that music, both melodies and words, and words, and words, and words of a higher standard. We also fraternally beg members of the Actors' Equity Association, to enisor their own dancing if the example set indecent. We likewise request the motion picture industry, so powerful a positions in their ballroom scenes. We congratulate them on their present his theorem in their ballroom scenes. We congratulate them on their present his function in their ballroom scenes. We congratulate them on their present his transition in their ballroom scenes. We congratulate them on their present his transition in the provent of the sassociation.

According to the association, not only have all its members paid all their taxes, but owing to advances made to the government on account of taxes they have paid more than the amount due in many cases.

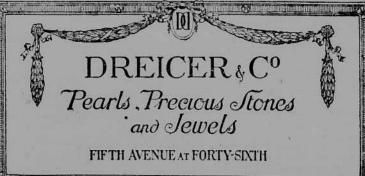

"All members," it is said in the statement, "have paid to the government the only taxes assessed in Mexico for March-April and May-June bi-mosters under agreement with the Mexican Secretary of the Treasury. Nearly all of them also paid large amounts of money to military commanders of the present regime, "on account of taxes," under compulsion during the recent overturn, which sums have not yet been credited to them in later payments.
